BUCKEYE

BASEMENT SOLUTIONS

Buckeye Basement Solutions was established in October 2020 with over 20 years of experience in construction, the company was born from the idea that they have better solutions and more personalized service to offer customers than that of others in their industry.

Brian Mastroianni, Owner and originally from central Ohio, graduated from Gahanna Lincoln High School before heading to Wright State University, where he began working toward a degree in nursing. Four years and a successful college baseball career later, he still wasn't sure what he wanted to do with his life.

He always liked working with his hands, however, and thanks to the construction work he did around his baseball schedule, he was given an opportunity to be a construction project manager. This prompted him to start his own company 22 years ago, where he primarily focused on custom remodeling.

Even though the company opened up shop in the middle of a global pandemic, Mastroianni said, "Our team knew we had something good, and we were ready to embrace a new chapter."

The response to Buckeye's business model has been overwhelmingly positive. Today, they have an incredible team of caring employees and provide the following services: basement waterproofing, structural foundation repairs, crawlspace encapsulation, sump pump and drainage installation and repair, whole home dehumidifiers and air purifying installation.

One thing that sets them apart is that from day one, they made a promise that Buckeye would never recommend a service to a customer that they didn't absolutely need done or wasn't in the best interest of that client.

Another thing that makes them unique is their inspection techniques.

"We're very thorough during our inspections and look at every option because every house and solution is different," said Mastroianni. "We don't recommend a heart replacement when you only need a stent, and we make sure that people understand what we're offering; that we're not confusing them with jargon. We hope people can read our integrity through these processes."

As they grow, they are also laser-focused on maintaining the ethics and morals on which the company was founded.

Their advice for those in real estate is to not fall into the scare tactic mentality.

"We love partnering with REALTORS® and their clients along with anyone who needs trustworthy waterproofing and foundation repair, knowing we are offering them the best price and products available. I love to say that our clients are part of our foundation family" said Mastroianni.

In his spare time, Mastroianni enjoys the outdoors. Mastroianni loves staying physically active and spending time with his 10-year-old daughter and dad and brother, who still live locally.
